

Mrs. Hanson Funeral Held Monday A. M.

Funeral services for Mrs. Marius Hanson were held Monday morning at St. Mary's church, Rev. Fr. James Moloney celebrating the high mass of requiem at 10:00 o'clock. Mrs. Hanson who had been one of Grayling's most prominent women, passed away at Mercy Hospital Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, having suffered a cerebral hemorrhage 24 hours before while at a social affair at the home of Mrs. C. G. Clippert.

It had been rare to ever hear Mrs. Hanson complain of being ill and her sudden illness and passing came very unexpectedly and was a severe shock and source of sadness to hosts of friends. Interment was in Elmwood cemetery beside the remains of her husband, who passed away in 1934. Pallbearers were Holger Hanson, Ypsilanti; Sigwald Hanson, Mt. Pleasant; James Hartwick, Detroit; Oscar Hanson, Dr. C. R. Keyport, A. J. Joseph.

There were many friends of long standing in attendance at the last rites to pay their respects. Rev. Fr. Joseph Culligan, a pastor at St. Mary's Cathedral, Saginaw, a former pastor of St. Mary's Church, Grayling, for about nine years, who delivered the sermon eulogized Mrs. Hanson for her untiring work in the church, for she had served as organist and choir director for over 40 years, and that meant a lot of effort and time spent. On every occasion, special or otherwise, she could be relied upon to provide the proper music. Outstanding from the time she was a child was her unselfish devotion to the Catholic faith and to St. Mary's church.

She was a member of St. Mary's Altar society from its origin, and served as president for a long number of years with much credit to herself. The ready response of the members, whenever Mrs. Hanson asked for volunteers for work that should be done, showed that she was a fine leader. She had a happy and charming personality and had the faculty of making friends among young and old and keeping them. Mrs. Hanson was also active in club and social circles. She was a member of the Goodfellowship club, throughout its life, of the Mercy Hospital Aid society and of the Wednesday Bridge club.

Maude Parsons was born in Bay City, December 29, 1878 and after residing in St. Helens and Waters came to Grayling with her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Owen Parsons when she was twelve years old. A strange coincidence was that Mrs. Hanson and her daughter, Mrs. Harold Cliff and husband, were residing for the winter in the Charles McCullough house, that had been Mrs. Hanson's home when she was a girl and it was here that she was united in marriage to Marius Hanson in 1898. Following their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Hanson went to Toledo to reside and it was here their daughter Lucille was born. Returning to Grayling after an absence of three years this had been the home of the family since. Mr. Hanson was proprietor of the Bank of Grayling and they were among Grayling's foremost citizens.

For the past two years Mrs. Hanson and daughter Mrs. Cliff, have operated the Maureen Shop, dealing in women's wearing apparel, with much success.

Those from out-of-the-city in attendance at the funeral included Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Wescott, Holger Hanson, Ypsilanti; Mr. and Mrs. Sigwald Hanson, Mt. Pleasant; Hanson Wescott, Mrs. Grace Coash, Mrs. Stanley N. Insley, Mr. and Mrs. James W. Hartwick, Mrs. Olaf Michelson, Mrs. Florence Warren, Mrs. Helen Rottier, Mrs. D. W. Horning, Mrs. Walker Monroe, Detroit; Mrs. Charles Tromble, Mr. and Mrs. Guy E. Bradley, Royal Oak; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tetu, Mrs. Karl Miller, Mrs. Morton, West Branch.

Surviving the deceased besides her daughter Mrs. Harold Cliff, is one brother George Parsons of Detroit, who was unable to be here for the services.

Dan Stephan Dies In Detroit

The remains of Daniel Stephan, a resident of Grayling since childhood, were brought from Detroit this morning for burial. Mr. Stephan had been ill with the flu for several days and feeling somewhat improved, he suffered a relapse, and passed away Tuesday.

He was one of nine children, all of whom have passed away except one sister, Mrs. Reuben Babbitt and one brother, George Stephan, both of whom reside in Grayling. "Dan" as he was called by his friends spent most of his time hunting, fishing or trapping, and sold many fine furs from animals. He was a lover of the woods and streams and enjoyed studying its wild life.

Mr. Stephan leaves to mourn his death, besides his brother and sister, four daughters and two sons, all from out of town.

Funeral services are being held this afternoon from the home of Mrs. Reuben Babbitt, with Rev. F. J. Mills officiating.

LEGION BIRTHDAY PARTY NICE AFFAIR

Although the attendance at the Legion birthday party Friday night was not as large as expected those present spent a very enjoyable evening. Pinochle and Chinese checkers were enjoyed and Charles Miesel and Mrs. Carl Nielsen held the high scores for pinochle, and Mrs. Miesel for checkers.

Following the games lunch was announced and two long tables were spread, prettily decorated in the Irish colors, as it was St. Patrick's day. One table was centered with the birthday cake, which was some 24 inches in diameter, frosted in white with a floral decoration. Lettering on the cake read "American Legion, 20th Birthday," and there were 20 lighted candles on it. Green tapers were placed each side of the cake. On the other table was a blooming shamrock guarded by a green tapers. Wilfred Laurant, a charter member, and who had been longest in office, was asked to cut the cake. He was very liberal and cut the cake in plentiful portions, so everyone had a lot of birthday cake.

After lunch Alfred Hanson read a history of the organization beginning from the day of the organization up to the present. This was extremely interesting and showed the organization had been very active during its 20 years. A regular history is to be compiled and kept up each year, which will be invaluable in the years to come.

The Auxiliary ladies were playing hosts and as the crowd marched to the tables and were standing in line they sang "Happy Birthday to you dear Comrades, Happy Birthday to you." It proved a very happy evening for all.

CCC To Celebrate 6th Anniversary

Camp Higgins Lake

The Civilian Conservation Corps completes six years of successful operation on April 5th, 1939. In recent years the Corps birthday has been made an occasion for the holding of "open house" celebrations in the individual CCC camps. These open house celebrations aid in the development and maintenance of good relations between the CCC camps and the surrounding communities. They also furnish the general public with an opportunity to inspect the CCC camps and to look at the work which enrollees have done.

Robt. E. Fechner, Director of the CCC, has expressed the hope that each camp will observe the Corps anniversary by holding an "open house" celebration on this, the 6th birthday of the CCC. Camp Higgins Lake, one of the oldest camps in the Camp Custer CCC District, will hold an open house celebration on Sunday, April 16th, to which the general public is invited.

A splendid program is being worked out by the CCC educational committee and news items relative to this program will appear weekly up to the 16th of April.

Stanley R. Ansley, Capt. In-Res., has recently been assigned to Camp Higgins Lake as Commanding Officer. He replaces John D. Austin, Capt. Cav-Res., who was relieved of command on March 12, 1939. Capt. Austin is now on an extended leave of absence.

Camp Kalkaska

On Sunday, April 9th, CCC Camp Kalkaska will celebrate the sixth anniversary of the establishment of the CCC. Open house is to be held, attended by a program to be announced later.

Visitors and delegations are expected from Grayling, Mancelona, Traverse City, Gaylord and Kalkaska. The object of the program is to acquaint residents of the surrounding area with the object and aim of the CCC.

Sunday Coldest Day of Winter

With bright days at this time, it is hard to realize that last Sunday morning was the coldest day of the winter when the temperature registered 19 below. On the day before—Saturday, it was 14 below. Sunday was dominated by strong winds and drifting snow.

However Sunday saw the temperature begin a slow rise. Old Man Winter began to feel the pressure of spring and has gradually given way. While there has been slightly freezing temperature most of the time, still the days are bright and delightful.

Huge banks of snow still exist, and the roadsides, where the snow has been removed, are piled high with banks of snow. These are gradually settling and there is

1939 Easter Seal Campaign Started

Praising the work of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children, Inc., Mr. Charles Moore today gave his warm personal approval and official endorsement of the sale of Easter seals now being carried on by this organization in order to finance its program for crippled children.

"Although the work of the Michigan Society carries with it every opportunity for a strong heart appeal, in my estimation no such appeal is necessary," said Mr. Moore, Judge of Probate. "The economic and social benefits to society as a whole would alone serve to justify many times the expenditure now made in this kind of work."

Dr. Keyport pointed out that although the element of human sympathy in work of this kind is inescapable, it should not be such as to obscure practical aspects of the situation.

"The Michigan Society has been carrying on a dogged campaign of education to get public recognition of the whole problem," he declared. "In bringing home to us the fact that by a small initial investment society can be relieved of a great financial burden this organization has done a great service."

Mrs. C. G. Clippert, chairman of the Crawford County Red Cross organization enthusiastically cited numerous cases of handicapped young people she knew who had been helped to help themselves.

"Restoring them to earning capacity has relieved the community of the burden of caring for them as long as they lived," she said. "That is not only a fine thing for them but for all of us. A movement which pays dividends of that kind should have the support of everyone. I appeal to the people of this community to give the seal sale the unanimous support it deserves. Dollars invested here will bear fine dividends, both in happiness and money."

just enough thaw at midday to cause small streams to trickle from the banks.

The trunk-line and county roads have been kept open all winter, but some of the trails roads are still difficult to travel. There is still much snow in the woods.

This morning (Thursday) the temperature was 27 above and was climbing fast.

National Wild Life Restoration Week

The National Wild Life Federation, through proclamation of President Roosevelt, are celebrating the coming week as National Wild Life Restoration week. Conservation meetings, banquets and parties are in evidence throughout the United States in conjunction with this worthy movement.

Wild Life stamps are being sold in every city, village and hamlet over the entire country with such funds being earmarked for carrying on the splendid conservation program that this organization is backing. Local sportsmen's clubs and conservation organizations in every corner of this country have this national organization to appeal to in the furtherance of their local problems.

The Wild Life stamps have gone on sale in Grayling this week and can be secured practically at any place of business or at our local Post Office. These stamps can be placed on all letters that you mail or if you wish they may be mounted in an album which has the description of each bird, animal or plant life as pictured on the various stamps. Crawford County chairman, Mr. R. A. Wright, assisted by Jack Redhead, President of our local Izaak Walton League Chapter, have these stamps for sale and can furnish you with the album should you want same. Possibly no more attractive stamps have ever been distributed and one of the albums with the stamps mounted therein is something to prize and view of the history printed therein, the album becomes a source of information hard to secure from any other source.

Buy a sheet of stamps today and assist the worthy cause. Get them at the local places of business, the Post Office, or call Mr. Wright or Mr. Redhead on the phone. Definite arrangements have just been completed for the local Boy Scout Troop to sell these stamps and in buying your stamps from them you will not only be furthering the cause of conservation but will be helping the Boy Scouts.

Important Izaak Walton Meet Mar. 30

Are you interested in the future fishing possibilities of Lake Margrethe? If so, plan to attend the meeting of the Izaak Walton League which will be held at the Courthouse on March 30th.

Whether or not you are a member is beside the point—come and join in the exchange of opinions on a matter which concerns everyone in this vicinity.

As an added feature City Manager George Granger has consented to explain the working principles of the new sewage disposal plant and its conformity with the nationwide drive against the pollution of our streams. Make your plans now to attend this meeting.

Let's see how many people in this locality are really interested in the destinies of their lakes and streams.

INSURANCE MEN MET IN GRAYLING

The agents of the State Farm Insurance Co., District No. 7, met in Grayling with the local agent, Chris King, Wednesday, for a school of instruction. The meeting was held in the new King home on Mikado street.

Among those from out of the city present at the meeting were State Director Alfred Bentall, and wife, Lansing; District Manager, I. B. McMartry, and wife, Midland; and the following agents:

Mr. and Mrs. Jennings Arkambault, Clare; Ben Senskie, Standish; R. M. Stewart, Rose City; John Gehl, West Branch; Earl Bielby, Hale; Arnold Ostrander, and Mrs. H. L. Ostrander, Afton; Ray Bennington, Gaylord; Oscar Sideman, Roscommon; and Mr. and Mrs. C. R. King, Grayling.

The agents were divided into two pairs and for the ones producing the most business for the week of March 13th to 18th were treated with a turkey dinner; the losers got pork and beans. The dinner was served at the Hanson Cafe. This is the second dinner held in Grayling by this group this winter.

SPRING

• The beginning of a period in which Mother Nature thoughtfully eliminates the necessity for coal bills.

Marble playing youths are as typical of spring in 1939 as sulphur and molasses were a generation ago. Art Weber, who defeated 50,000 Chicago youths in a marble tournament, demonstrates the skill that made him a champion.

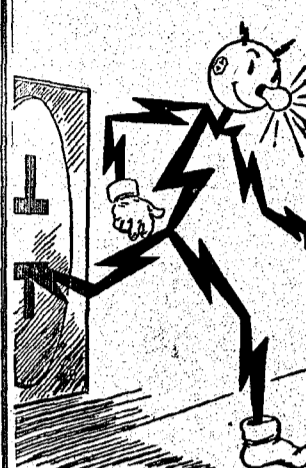

Millions of enthusiastic anglers are already checking equipment, planning trips and swapping tall stories. Opening of the trout season in several states draws thousands of early season fishermen who can no more resist the call of the streams than the fish can resist their lures.

To many people gardening furnishes a living. To still more it is a fascinating hobby, energetically pursued during the growing season. With spring weather comes garden seed catalogues, tools and tips for beginners. But earliest of all comes the urge to don a pair of overalls and start diggin'.

Grange Notes

We, the members of Crawford County Grange, No. 934, wish to go on record as being in favor of the people electing the Road Commissioner instead of the Board of Supervisors.

We would also like to protest the Hampton Bill. Many people do not know what this bill will mean to the farmers of northern Michigan if it is passed.

Last Saturday found a good turnout of Grange members. It was the last day of the membership drive. Cannot make any report as to which side won, but can report about twenty-five members, new and old, have been added to the record, and several more will be coming in later.

The members are working at the hall this week. They have the floor finished. The ladies are busy getting ready for their sale which will be held on April first, starting at eleven o'clock, so that the ladies who work can make a call during the noon hour. Place—at Connine's Grocery. There will be baked goods, fancy work, something for the babies, and something for the ladies; yes, and something good to eat for the men. Watch for the posters that will be out next week.

Saturday, April first, there will also be a Grange meeting, in the evening. All the new members who have not received the first two degrees are requested to be present at 8:30. A pot luck lunch will be served after the meeting.

At a meeting of the school board Monday evening Supt. G. N. Wood was re-elected for another year. Supt. "And now," said the teacher, wishing to stress the moral, "what does this story show?" Several moments of silence followed and then a very small miss ventured this: "It shows how many children two bears can hold."

A Miracle, Maybe

The teacher was explaining the law of gravitation, and how it prevented people from falling off the earth. When he had finished he invited questions from the class. "Please, sir," said one pupil, "what kept them on the earth before this law was passed?"

Nothing Shiny

ON HER GUARD

"Have you decided where you're going on your vacation?" "No indeed! Hubby might want to go to the same place I had selected."

THURSDAY, MARCH 23, 1939

THE NEWS of the death of Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald was indeed shocking. Without the slightest intimation that his illness was critical, he passed away at his home in Grand Ledge Thursday evening. The news was broadcast over the radio immediately after his death. He had served the state of Michigan for nearly a quarter century, starting when a young lad as a messenger boy in the senate. Later we see him as business manager of the State Highway department; then as secretary of State and later governor. America speaks of "Honest Abe" (Lincoln) and Michigan can speak of "Honest Frank D." Through all his official duties there was never a doubt but that he was acting in behalf of and for the best interests of his Michigan. It was only a few days ago that, in talking with two Grayling men, the Governor said, "I would like to charter an airplane for Florida and take a week's rest, but that wouldn't be fair to the people of Michigan. I feel that I need a rest." Had he done so he probably would be alive today. Governor Murphy probably was smart in not letting duty in Lansing stand in his way whenever he felt that he wanted to go places, and he is alive today. Not so with Governor Fitzgerald; duty came first and he virtually gave his life in his service for Michigan. Those who knew him intimately remember him for his grand personality, his fine and unforgettable friendship and his steadfast devotion to duty.

REGIMENTING MICHIGAN

(Daily Tribune at Royal Oak)
Instead of worrying about how Hitler is regimenting the German people, it might be a good thing if we would pay attention to some of the proposals continually coming before the Michigan legislature.

If all the laws proposed there to regulate people and their jobs were passed, we would all be living in a straight jacket.
One of the latest is a plan to establish a state board of examiners on watch making. Four years' apprenticeship would be required, an examination and, of course, a $5 annual license fee.
In defining "unethical conduct", the bill includes advertising prices of watch repairing. What is unethical about that? If so, what about other forms of advertising? Michigan has a "false advertising" law which protects the consumer against misrepresentation, misleading statements, etc.

Another legislator suggests that we line up the contractors under government control. He would create a state license board for them with power to examine, classify and qualify applicants. Naturally there would be a license fee, in this case $25; renewal $15.

Still another control measure has been proposed. This would set up a code of ethics for painters. In this case, the initial license fee would be $50. A board would examine and license painters and decorators and provide laws whereby the annual license could be revoked.

At this rate, eventually we won't have any watch makers, painters, masons or anybody else. We will all be working in government bureaus, collecting fees and telling other people how to run their businesses.

Facts of a Plane

The life of a plane is still undetermined for all cases. There are planes in daily use that have flown thousands of hours in the past ten to twenty years. With the exception of the power plant there is very little about an airplane to wear out.

The modern aircraft power plant requires no more care than does an automobile engine. It is not unusual to fly five hundred hours between engine overhauls.
The length of service between overhauls is governed by the type of flying done. A racing plane or one used for acrobatics will require engine overhauls more frequently than the plane used for cruising flight or student training.

The Aeronca will fly twenty-five to thirty miles per gallon of gasoline. The depreciation is lower than an automobile of the same first cost. We have no license to buy, no tires to replace yearly, no transmission, differential, or other chassis parts to lubricate and service.

Insurance rates are no longer excessive per mile traveled.
There is only one way of getting about cheaper and that is to walk. These remarkable little planes will land in practically any small field, take off in a very small space and cut your usual travel time in half, thus permitting more time with friends or at work with less fatigue incurred enroute. Flying makes practical as well as possible, those often dreamed of but seldom taken, week end trips and you experience no nervous fatigue at the end of a trip.

Any information gladly given about the club. Stop in and see Fritz Heath or Alfred Hanson.

FELDHAUSER SCHOOL WINS
FIRST PLACE IN TB SEAL
SALE

Feldhauser school wins first honors in the tuberculosis Christmas seal sale in Crawford county.

That was the report issued this week by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association, sponsor of the campaign to raise funds for tuberculosis fighting in Michigan. Under the supervision of Mrs. Wakeley, the pupils of the Feldhauser school made a splendid record, the Association declared. As a reward for their fine efforts the Feldhauser pupils were given "Healthyland," a big book of health plays, pictures, stories, verses, and letters.

Under the direction of the teacher, Henry Methner, Principal, the Frederic school ran the Feldhauser boys and girls a close second in the county-wide seal sale. In appreciation of Frederic school's splendid seal selling activities, the Association awarded the pupils with "Twenty Game Combination," a combination of popular games in one set.

The Association also commended the efforts of every rural school that took part in the sale of tuberculosis Christmas seals.
Each year rural boys and girls together with their teachers, take an active stand against their greatest single disease enemy, the White Plague. The combined efforts of rural schools throughout Michigan help to provide the means for carrying on a year-round vigorous campaign to prevent the spread of tuberculosis.

Max Laage says he received a letter from John Bruun written

since he is on his homeward journey he begins to wonder about Grayling. Mr. Bruun is expected home any day.

Tuberculosis does not just happen. It is passed from person to person, and the close contacts of family life make the spread of the disease difficult to control.
That is why the Michigan Tuberculosis Association stresses the importance of early diagnosis.

Don Young, Western Union operator and Express agent, is taking a couple of weeks vacation.
He says he doesn't know of any better place to be than in Grayling so he will spend it here.
"Just going to have a good rest,"
he says. Len Myers will "sub"
for him during his absence.

Friends of Rev. Fr. Joseph Cul-ligan enjoyed seeing him again

forepart of the week. Father Culligan is an assistant pastor at St. Mary's Cathedral in Saginaw and directs the large choir the church boasts of. He was looking fine.

Entering the Cheboygan basket ball tournament Wednesday, the Grayling Bears were defeated in a thrilling game with Petoskey.
The Cubs led most of the way and looked like the winners up to the last two minutes when they eased up and Petoskey ran ahead. The score was 40 to 32.

The Mason-Legion Pinocle
tournament is drawing to a close,
and next Wednesday evening will determine the winners. Tuesday evening seven tables were in

with Chas. Moore and Clair Smith hold high score for the Masons and Clarence Johnson and Otto Failing for the Legion-

in the lead and it looks as tho they will win the tournament. To really make sure who wins why don't all you Masons and Legionaires come down to the Legion join in and have an evening of fun? A Dutch lunch will be served after the tournament.

Lansing—Eight legislative days remain for filing of new bills for the 1939 session of the state legislature.

Pet measures of every kind are being dumped into the hopper, referred to sundry committees, and left to await their fate which, in most cases, will be oblivion.

The very fact that more than 600 bills have been introduced here to date and that around 900 will probably be the final total offers an insight into the hazards which legislation must surmount 'twix' introduction and passage.

More than one conscientious representative and senator has voted in favor of a bill on the say-so of a friend without giving it more than a passing glance. In the mad rush of the final weeks of every legislative session, unwise bills often slip through, due to realistic circumstances rather than to deliberate intent.

266-Page Bill

A case at hand is Senate Bill No. 1, the probate code, representing months of work by a study commission created by the 1937 legislature.

This measure, sponsored by Senator D. Hale Brake, contains 266 pages. It is the prize measure to date for length.

On Monday, March 13, the senate judiciary committee reported out the bill. The official journal of the senate, No. 45 of the 1939 series, might well be a text for students of political science on the modern art of government. This issue contains all the amendments recommended by the committee for the probate code—exactly 450 in number!

Senators were appalled at the prospect of having each amendment read by the clerk, as is necessary during general orders if one senator so desires. Obviously the senate would be in continuous session for many, many hours. Few, if any, of the members would have the patience or endurance to survive the ordeal.

What happened? You guessed right. The Senate passed the bill, hoping for the best. It was more of a vote of confidence in Senator Brake and his colleagues, all attorneys, than one of approval of the bill and its 450 amendments.

Here is modern government in operation.

"Life for a Pint"

Twelve years ago a similar predicament confronted a Michigan legislature, and the unfor-seen results led to the election of Wilbur M. Brucker as governor.

A voluminous bill, dealing with crime and justice emerged one day from committee. It consisted of pages and pages. Among the many restrictions was a sentence that provided up to life sentence for a habitual offender—one convicted of four offenses. The bill became a law.

During prohibition days more so than now, enforcement of the state liquor law was a much-publicized issue.

Michigan awoke one morning to read in the daily newspapers that the legislature had provided medieval punishment for a citizen seized with a pint of liquor in his possession. In the public controversy that ensued, Mr. Brucker, then a deputy attorney general, became the man of the hour. It was a publicity break that resulted, later on, in his elevation to the governorship.

Regulatory Bills

As the deadline nears for introduction of bills, more and more regulatory measures appear at Lansing.

Each special group seeks to have the state government regulate its business, ostensibly in the name of fair trade but in reality for the purpose of controlling competition.

To remedy these so-called abuses (if free competition is an abuse) sponsors would have the government set up bigger and better bureaus, backed by systems of license fees and staffs of investigators with varying police power.

Just as the 1937 legislature sought to establish trade barriers to encourage home consumption of Michigan beer and wine, so many of these measures would set up new barriers.

Protection of the public is given as the benefit, but the undeniable trend is toward monopoly.

Senate Bill 186 would erect barriers against the consumption of oleomargarine. Each manufacturer would pay a fee of $2,500; each wholesaler and distributor, $1,000 and each retail dealer, $100.

House Bill 293 would license barbers and haircutters, define an apprentice barber, and authorize regulations, fees and investigations.

Electrical Code

House Bill 308 would amend the 1935 electrical code to provide "it shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to install any electrical wiring except in compliance with the regulations prescribed by the electrical administrative board."

This measure defines classifications of electrical journeyman, master electrician and electrical contractor.

A half dozen fair trade bills have been introduced to date, each one seeking to outlaw the so-called "loss leader", merchandise that is sold below cost, and in many instances providing for a commission or bureau to see that retailers observe the regulations. These bills hark back to the "Blue Eagle" NRA days when the federal government sought, through administrative code authorities, to maintain fair prices and thus assure retailers and manufacturers of a profit.

Model Advertising Law

In 1931 the legislature enacted a criminal code which contained a restriction against "false advertising" which follows closely the model statute prepared by "Printers' Ink" magazine first in 1911. This statute has been enacted, as part of codes or as individual laws, by 30 of the 48 states.

According to J. D. Jordan of the Better Business Bureau of Detroit, Michigan's false advertising law is "practically identical" with the national model statute. It offers adequate protection to the consumer against false or misleading statements made in any advertisement whether in a newspaper, magazine, handbill, printed sheet for direct mail use, or in any other manner for public or private dissemination.

On Saturday, Feb. 11, in Judge George Murphy's court at Detroit, two partners and a manager of a photographic studio were fined $50 each and one of the partners was given a suspended prison sentence for sending "false and misleading" statements through the mail. The statute on which the three men were successfully tried was Michigan's model advertising law.

It is the opinion of many legislators that the above consumer protection, already on the statute books, is ample and sufficient and that further false advertising restrictions are not needed. Additional advertising restrictions may be found in a number of bills introduced during this session, many of them of good intention but without knowledge of their sponsors that the state already has a model law fully protecting the consumer.

Straws in the Wind

The current A.F.L.-C.I.O. feud has weakened labor's strength at Lansing. The governor's labor relations mediation bill, proposing a "cooling off" period before a strike, has better than even chance of passage.

Chances of repeal of the civil service law (as forecast in this column last week) have disappeared completely. Senate Republicans intend to revamp the law, reducing the number of state employees covered. House sentiment still is strong for outright repeal but it won't get very far.

Economy-minded members of the legislature are taking a whack at every appropriation bill. Senator Bishop's state advertising bill, originally calling for $150,000 a year for tourist advertising and $50,000 for matching growers' expenditures for farm produce advertising, was cut in the Senate to $125,000 and $25,000 respectively. The House ways and means committee then reduced the total to $100,000 a year. Final passage was scheduled for this week.
